

Consumer Data Right Policy

About this policy

This policy has information about how The Mac deals with data under the Consumer Data Right (CDR) regime. This policy only applies to data under the CDR regime (CDR Data). For information about how we collect, use, hold and disclose your personal information under Privacy Laws, see our Privacy Policy at themaccu.com.au.

About the CDR

The Consumer Data Right was introduced by the Australian Government to give consumers greater access and control over their data.

Under the CDR legislation, you can request access to and correct CDR Data about you. You can also authorise us to share this data with an Accredited Data Recipient (ADR).

How you can access and/or correct your CDR Data

You can request access to your CDR Data at any time. This request can be made directly, or you can authorise an accredited person to do so on your behalf.

If you believe the CDR Data we hold is incorrect, you can ask us to correct this by contacting our friendly team on 1300 622 278 or by visiting one of our branches.

Disclosing CDR Data

We will only disclose your CDR Data to an accredited person if you have authorised us to do so.

We will only disclose CDR Data as required under the CDR regime or to otherwise comply with the law.

We will not accept any requests for disclosure of voluntary data.

Making a complaint

If you are unhappy with the way that we have dealt with your CDR Data, you can access our internal dispute resolution scheme at any time without charge. You can make a CDR complaint in the following ways:

- in person at one of our branches
- by calling us on 1300 622 278
- by email at mail@themaccu.com.au
- in writing to PO Box 121, Camden NSW 2570

When you make a complaint, you will need to let us know your full name, contact details, a short description of your complaint and your desired resolution.

We will acknowledge your complaint within 1 business day. We will investigate your complaint and contact you if we need more information. Most complaints will be resolved within 21 days but some complaints may take up to 30 days to resolve.

How your complaint is resolved will depend on your complaint. For example, we may resolve your complaint by:

- correcting any incorrect CDR data
- deleting CDR data
- formal apology

We are also a member of the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA). If you are not satisfied with how we handled your complaint, you may take your matter there. We will advise you at the time how you may contact AFCA.

If the complaint involves your personal information, you may also take your matter to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC). We will advise you at the time how you may contact the OAIC
